

Please do not change the Indiana Privacy Law. The list is the best thing that has happened in regards to privacy in a long time. I used to get between 10 - 12 calls every evening. They are now down to maybe 1 a night. That is wonderful. It used to be on the verge of harrassment before. Please let it be...these corporations can afford to find other ways to advertise, besides, the minute that I learn it is a telemarketer, I will not buy or sign up for anything just because they bothered me at home, while I was fixing or eating dinner, or just unwinding after a long day at work. Why fix something that is not broken? It's perfect the way it is. Thank you. Dana Hand
